Buchanan's Organization Not Neutral Enough for Vice-President, Who Quits.

LAMAR'S FRIENDS IN IT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.-Labor's National Peace Council, organized by Representative Buchanan of Illinois to prevent shipments of munitions of war to the belligerents, gives evidence of internal dissensions. Milton Snelling, vice-president of the council, who accepted the office as the representative of the Washington Central Labor Union gave out to-day a letter which he had written to Buchanan announcing that he no longer can serve as one of the council's executives. Snelling says he cannot permit his name to be used when the action of some of the members "justifies action of some of the members "justifies suspicion and condemnation."

Snelling mentions what has repeatedly been noted in Washington, that while posing as "Labor Peace Council" the Buchanan organization has among its active workers men who have had nothing to do with organized labor.

Snelling's Letter of Resignation. Following is the letter of Mr. Snelling

WASHINGTON, July 29, 1915. Frank Buchanan, M. C., president, 2502 North Central Park avenue, Chicago, Ill.

DEAR SIR: Ever since the meeting, which was held June 22 and 23 at the St. James Hotel, this city, and at which was organized the "Labor's National Peace Council." I have been rummaging over in my mind the course which I ought to pursue, both in regard to the association and the offices to which I was elected, for if there is anything repugnant to me it is even to be suspected or placed in a position where my actions do not equare with my conscience.

As you are aware, because you were present at the neeting of the Washington Central Labor Union, I was at first disinclined to accept the selection of the C. L. U. to participate in your conference the following day, but a little later, knowing you as I do, I concluded that it was safe to follow your leadership in this matter. and I accepted the appointment. After your election to the presidency I was elected first vice-president and others were elected to the several offices created, and to the best of my ability I gave whatever assistance I could.

I was in hope that some contribution might be made by representatives of labor to the attainment of an early norable and humane peace the nations now engaged in the European war, but, Sir, when I discovered persons participating in the meetings who have been hanging on the fringe of the labor movement for their own rsonal aggrandizement, men who personal aggrandizement, men who have been discarded, one who is expelled from the international union of his trade, and others never having been members of any organization of labor, I am free to say that it caused me considerable chagrin, disappointment and disgust.

Wanted to Know About Finances. After having elected our officers, including a treasurer, the question was asked how this movement was to be financed, and I assure you that I was considerably impressed when no one deigned to give a reply. Later, when you and Mr. John Lorch, one of my associates, were together and the same question was asked by Mr. Lorch of you, you may perhaps im-agine my astonishment when you an-

This thing is big enough so that I do not care where the money comes from to finance it."

It may be interesting, yet until now was sitting in the meeting, and in conversation with Mr. Jacob C. Tay-lor, the delegate from East Orange, N. J." Mr. Lorch asked: "What, after all, does this council

Mr. Taylor replied: "We want to stop the exportation of munitions to the Allies. You see Germany can manufacture all the munitions she

Surely, when I heard this, the impression made upon my mind was not that the council was seeking peace but rather to play into the hands of one of the nations engaged in the European war and as against the others.

Since the adjournment of the meeting I find about the most active men in the effort to carry on the work of the "Labor's National Peace Council" are William B. Martin and Mr. Herman J. Schulteis, and this, too, has considerably disconcerted me.

The horrifying incidents which have occurred in our national capital and in New York, together with the facts I have recited, have determined the course which I ought to pursue. It will be my pleasure, as it is my duty, to co-operate with my fellow workers in the organization movement and with all other conscientious persons and bodies for the purpose of bringing about an early and honorable peace, but I cannot longer permit my name to be associated with the organization when the action of some of its members justifies suspicion and condemna-tion. I therefore beg to tender my resignation as first vice-president and all connection with the "Labor's National Peace Council" to take effect at once.

I should add that for you, personally, and several of the gentlemen who participated in the conference, I entertain great respect, even though I feel that a mistaken course has been pursued. I am, very truly yours,

MILTON SNELLING. Henry B. Martin and Harman Schulteis, mentioned in Mr. Snelling's letter, were formerly associated with David Lamar, the Wolf of Wall Street, in the so-called Anti-Trust League.

A small woman wearing a shawl and effecting a Polish accent gained admittance yesterday noon to the office of William H. Egan, station master of the Manhattan division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at the Pennsylvania Railroad, at the Pennsylvania Station. She asked for Mr. Egan and began to cry, saying that her son was dying in Pittsburg. "Please help me get to Pittsburg," she begged the station master.

After a brief questioning Mr. Egan started to cross the halt to the ticket office to get a ticket for the woman. She thereupon became excited; her accent disappeared, her hands trembled so in the excitement attenting her success that she crepped a handbag she had been clutching to her side. The clasp of the bag broke open and a little stream of ten dollar gold pieces poured out on the floor. She was shown to the door. started to cross the hall to the ticket
